GOVERNMENT AGENCIES

Government agencies and specific work locations can order books, codes for taking the online assessments, register for the online “train the trainer” course, buy other trainer materials and/or have Dr. White come do keynote presentations or leadership training. Given the low cost of our resources, most agencies are able to purchase the resources or services either through a purchase order, a specific contract for services, or use a credit card (rather than having to go through the more complex process for large contracts).
